

Today's Scripture: In response to an attempt to ridicule his teaching about life after death, Jesus again proclaims a resurrection of the dead, that life is indeed stronger than death itself. This is our eternal consolation and hope. Then will our joy be truly complete.

St. Martin's Cloak Food Collection

For the foreseeable future, St. Martin's Cloak will only be accepting monetary donations. Your support of this very important ministry enables us to purchase gift cards for our neighbors and parishioners who are in need of food for their families. May God Bless You for your constant generosity.

ATTENTION: All St. Martin Seniors

The next Martineers meeting will be Thursday, November 17 at 1:00 pm in the school. Come and join us for some refreshments and friendly conversation. New members are always welcome. Any questions, call Debbie at 216-741-4327 or my cell 216-333-6845.

Rainbow Support Group—for all those who have lost a loved one—will continue its series of group support sessions on Thursdays thru December 1, except for Thanksgiving. Sessions are held in the school and will start at 7:00 p.m. and end at 9:00 p.m. Everyone is welcome. No RSVP is necessary. For further information, call the rectory 216-475-4300.

Light on the Liturgy

Liturgical Renewal, 20: Architecture and the Primacy of Christ
Today's

Readings: <https://bible.usccb.org/bible/readings/110622.cfm>

The design of our modern churches, besides being a symbol of who the Church is (the People of God) and thus beneficial for communal prayer, also reflects another important element of the liturgy: the centrality of Christ, God himself acting in our midst.

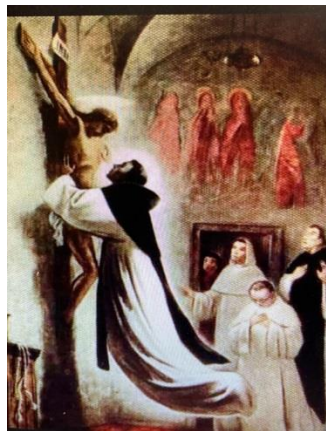

One of the basic teachings of the Judeo-Christian tradition (the Bible) is that our God is a God of mercy and compassion who does not need to be cajoled into caring for us. This is already God's primary concern. Our prayers may not always be answered the way we want, but there is wisdom in the old song: "Some of God's greatest gifts are unanswered prayers." He knows what's best for us. How we deal with unanswered prayers depends a lot on our own attitude. A positive attitude looks for the good in things and for how we can turn adversity into advantage. We humans like to blame God for things that are often our own fault. We don't like to take responsibility for our actions. It started already with Adam. After he sinned, he said, "The woman you put here made me do it" (Gen. 3/12). He is blaming God and someone else for his mistake.

This affects the way we approach liturgy. We come with humble confidence. Christ is there waiting for us. Our attitude should be his in the Garden: "Father...take this cup away; still, not my will but yours be done" (Lk. 22/42). Thus, we approach with joy because we come to meet a friend. As is the nature of the liturgy, Christ is present through various signs and symbols (9/26-11/21, 2021 articles): He is present in the proclamation of his Word, especially the Gospel; so we ask, what is he saying to me through this reading. He is present in a unique way in the Bread and Wine, the primary symbols of the Meal; so when we, as part of a community, receive Communion, we are joined with the Risen Christ as closely as possible here on earth. Finally he is present through the priest and the community gathered in his name. The symbols are communicated much more effectively and our meeting with Jesus more intimate when we gather around these symbols and sense their presence in our midst.

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

Thinking back to my first year in the seminary (First Theology) I was assigned to do field education at St. Colman's. The pastor was Fr. Vincent Haas. He had come to St. Mary's and at our first meeting he shared with me that one of the roles of a priest was to stand under people. He clarified that by saying that the role is to be understanding of others. (Amazing how I remember that.) Fr. Haas was an example to many of being non-judgmental and assisting in the development of recovery programs in his early days at St. Thomas hospital in Akron. He would also share his experience at pastor of St. Peter Claver in Akron and his efforts at integration in the city. One of the introductions he made to me was with Rev. Mr. Charles Johnson who was a deacon at St. Martin de Porres center where he ministered to the families on Cleveland's east side. He was also a barber (much like the patron that he was assigned to St. Martin himself). It was there that I assisted with the Cub Scouts as well with Thanksgiving food distribution. Relative to the Saint himself it was Martin who was called an almoner. That was a word I was not familiar with as it means a distributor of alms. Alms giving is a means of charitable relief of the poor and so considered a gospel mandate and a duty. We appreciate the generosity of the parish here to that same direction of sharing through our St. Martin's Cloak and the assistance given by our own almoners responsive to the needs of others without judgment. I was remembering as well the ministry of Fr. Haas characterized by his fidelity to prayer and the celebration of the Eucharist and the time spent in the Sacrament of Reconciliation. He was a model of pastoral availability as well a wise spiritual director who would emphasize being 're-created' daily. His notion of recreation was not so much oriented towards activity (in my remembering) that was physical. It was rather daily activity that sought to be embraced by the creative spirit of Christ to help animate the mind and heart of the believer. In visiting the Last Supper in Milan adjacent to the Basilica Madonna Delle Grazie. A basilica connected to the order of St. Dominic. In one of the side altars there is a painting of St. Martin de Porres elevated while kneeling before the crucifix. I gifted the photo I had to a good friend who worked at the high school on the east side of Cleveland. It was also said of St. de Porres that he that he had a knack for the peaceable kingdom. The brothers noticed a dog and cat and mouse eating from the bowl. May we seek the same kind of being elevated and recreated in the spirit daily. May we as well be our efforts in creating the kind of peaceable kingdom exemplified by Christ himself.

From Bobbi Bugaj

One of the most memorable and moving experiences in my life has been to sit at the Soo Locks and watch the big freighters being raised or lowered to the correct water level (I call it "locking through"). I have my favorites freighters and I have pictures of some that no longer navigate the Great Lakes. I saw the Edmund Fitzgerald go through the Soo Locks the summer before she sank on the lakes, I saw the Roger Blough on her maiden voyage also being raised through the locks). I have watched the Arthur Anderson, who turned around in a storm to see if she could assist the Edmund Fitzgerald. They are/were huge elegant ships to watch be lifted or dropped down so as to safely finish the voyage to where they were going. The Soo Locks consist of two canals and four locks that allow vessels of many types/sizes to safely traverse the 21-foot drop in elevation of the St. Mary's River between Lake Superior and Lakes Michigan and Huron. The Soo Locks are powered by gravity. Water moves in and out of the locks chambers by opening and closing valves. God does all the work in raising and lowering the huge freighters up and down. In February of this year, the Roger Blough had a fire aboard the ship and is as as I write this, being towed to Conneaut Ohio to be fixed or scrapped. I found a video on line of her being towed through the port of Huron in Michigan on October 30. There are tugs in front of her and behind her. They are providing a safe passage. As I watched the tugs, I started to ponder that when I was first learning about God my parents taught me my prayers and also taught me that God is everywhere helping us along the way. That no matter how big and strong we think we are, it is God that supports me on the journey when sometimes I go up in flames and burn. I am safely and carefully brought to a port that will help me the most. (Because the Roger Blough has a hopper style unloading system, she can only unload at Conneaut or Gary Indiana.) God tugs me to safety, carefully pulling and pushing so that the rolling seas of life do not swamp me, roll me over or capsize me. This is not a quick journey, it is slow and plodding and requires patience and understanding that I must let go of life and head in the direction that God is pulling or pushing me to go. While being towed through the port, the skies are blue and the tugs appear small against the larger freighter. That brought a smile of hope because while the Holy Spirit is pulling and pushing me through skies that are both blue and grey, it strengthens my faith to think that no matter what happens to me, I am loved and cared for.

The “Grateful Tree”

In celebrating the season of Thanksgiving, the weekend of November 5th and 6th, paper leaves will be available in the vestibule for you to write down things that you are thankful for in your life. The leaves will be displayed on the “grateful tree” in the vestibule until the end of November.

CHRISTMAS/SECRET SANTA 2022

St. Martin’s Cloak would like to thank all of you in advance for your generous Christmas gifts. You have helped these needy friends and neighbors all year long –every year! And the families are truly grateful and so appreciative. May these gifts become the Christ Child’s presence to us all.

Due to the Covid-19 pandemic, the following are the plans for our Secret Santa Project and our Christmas Giving Tree for 2022. Beginning the weekend of November 5/6 there will be a box of envelopes for $25 or $50 gift cards for Walmart or Giant Eagle.

There will also be empty boxes to be filled with womens and mens warm socks for winter – we are also asking for 2 or 4 packs of kleenex boxes for our families’ gift bags. (PLEASE – no bulk packages of paper products). Please put these items in the boxes provided.

IMPORTANT: Bring all gift cards to the rectory in the envelopes provided. Do not leave them in the Church.

All items and gift cards MUST BE TURNED IN by Sunday November 27 – no later, please. The Christmas Giving Tree will remain the same. We need Men’s and Women’s hats, gloves and scarves to hang on our tree.

Triennial National Collection for AMS,
Archdiocese for the Military Services, USA
Collection November 5-6, 2022

The ministries offered by AMS benefit those who serve in all six branches of the U.S. Armed Forces, Veterans, and their families. It is the mission of the Archdiocese that they be able to seek sacramental preparation for baptism, confirmation, first Communion, penance, and marriage; to benefit from consultation with a priest, and to receive the sacrament of penance as they defend our rights of freedom and speech, and face constant transition and uncertainty. If in a position to do so, I ask you to prayerfully consider a donation to help me minister to the 1.8 million faithful throughout the U.S. and around the globe who serve and protect. They are the Catholic military men and women, Veterans, and their families, who are a part of this global Archdiocese – parishioners and families from your own parish. Sincerely in Christ, (The Most Reverend) Timothy P. Broglio, J.C.D. Archbishop for the Military Services, USA

Knights of Columbus: Please Note: We have changed our voicemail service. Please listen to the entire message before leaving an order. Thank You.

Please Join Us in Celebrating Catholic Charities' 110th Anniversary!

Thank You for your ongoing support of the 2022 Catholic Charities Appeal at St. Martin of Tours - Maple Hts.. Your support serves people in need throughout the eight counties of the diocese and continues a ministerial tradition of providing help and creating hope that goes back 110 years. As you know, throughout the months of September and October we had a matching donation campaign from the Humble Heart- Gentle Soul Foundation. And we have great news:

OUR MATCH HAS BEEN EXTENDED! We've doubled our match, and because of the generosity of the Humble Heart-Gentle Soul Foundation, we are continuing this opportunity for high-impact giving through November 30th! For more information please go to: CatholicCommunity.org/match to learn more and increase the impact of your gift.

As the 2022 Catholic Charities Appeal is still underway, we're asking everyone to keep up the excellent work! Every dollar counts.
